Flood Repair Starts

Six-State Region Faces Huge Task; Eisenhower Plans To Inspect Damage

By The Associated Press

The flood-dazed northeastern states struggled today to get back on their feet, with President Eisenhower taking a personal hand in the agonizing task.

With human misery and destruction spread over a six-state region, and the death toll near 200, the President announced in Denver he will make an aerial inspection of the devastation tomorrow.

An incomplete survey by the American Red Cross showed that 34,169 families were driven from homes, most of which now lie in soggy, warped mud-glutted ruin.

Sanitation hazards, debris-littered streets, bodies of dead livestock, shattered store fronts—a massive, grim specter of blighted fortunes and lives—confronted scores of communities.

Over all—covering thousands of square miles—was a dismal, slimy sea of mud, fresh-cut ravines and waste.

Eisenhower appealed to people everywhere in the country to "pitch in and help" a drive for relief funds by the Red Cross, which today had 260 experts busy surveying critical family needs.

In Washington, the Small Business Administration today declared all of Connecticut and nine counties in Rhode Island, New Jersey and New York as crucial disaster areas, eligible for emergency loans.

Similar action had previously been taken for eight counties in Pennsylvania and five in Massachusetts.

The known dead already numbered 186. As additional victims were discovered, it appeared the final count would go well above this figure. Pennsylvania and Connecticut, the states hardest hit, estimated a total of as many as 130 persons still missing.

The latest count since the beginning of the floods last Thursday was: Pennsylvania, 93; Connecticut, 66; Massachusetts, 13; Rhode Island, 1; New Jersey, 6; New York, 4; Virginia, 3.

As the rampaging streams and rivers receded to normal levels, astonished citizens surveyed the heart-breaking devastation. It was so vast that only the broadest estimates of the damage could be made, but these ran to billions.

Homes were wrecked or completely gone. Factories were damaged, some beyond repair. Bridges were down and roads washed out, with asphalt surfaces churned up.

Health hazards were a major problem. Flood survivors in most places were ordered to drink drinking water. Emergency antitoxin serums were flown into isolated communities by helicopter.

Arkansas Police Join Hunt for Escapees

ALMA, Ark. (P)—Arkansas State Police joined in the search for three escapees of the Kingston, Mo., jail after the trio yesterday tried to burglarize a grocery store north of here and shot at the store owner as they made their escape.

A tie-in to the Aug. 14 Missouri jail escape was made when police here found a Caldwell County, Mo., sheriff's badge which was left behind by the escaping bandits. The badge had been taken by the trio when they broke jail.

Being sought are Elmo Scott Whitt, 28; his 18-year-old brother Bobby; and Mrs. Betty Archer, 24. They were being held at Kingston for burglary and grand larceny at the time of their escape.

They were caught yesterday by H. C. Jones, the grocery store owner, while trying to burglarize it. While Jones was holding the trio at gunpoint, however, the elder Whitt broke away, got a gun from his car and started firing at Jones. All three then escaped in their stolen car.

It Turned Out Fine

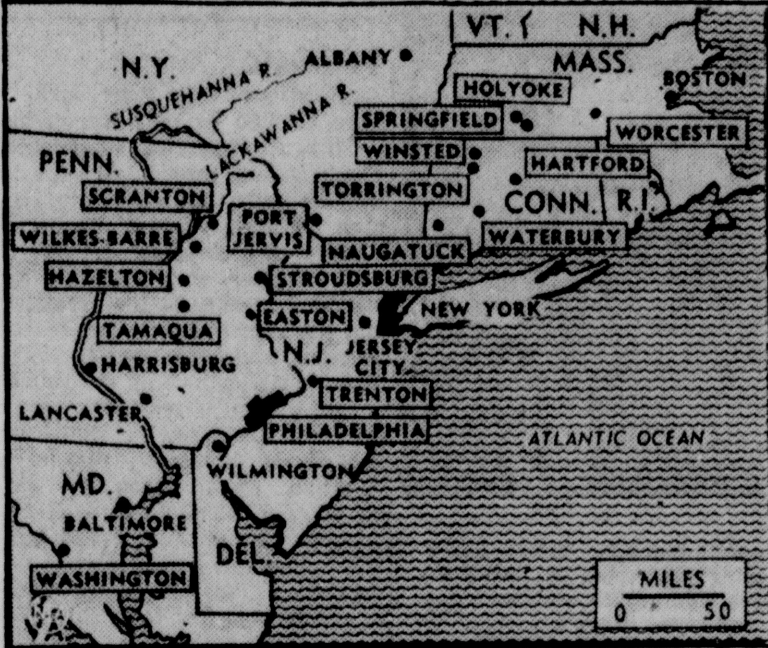

It looked for a while as if the skies might remain overcast and possibly even drench the Fair visitors again but it turned out to be very pleasant after all.

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Cooler tonight. High Tuesday in upper 80s. Low tonight near 65.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 70, 88 at 1 p.m., and 89 at 2 p.m. Rainfall Sunday afternoon and night .30 inch.

The temperature one year ago today, high 93, low 73; two years ago, high 90, low 61; and three years ago, high 93, low 62, with .20 inches of rain.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks 56.9 rise .1.

FLOOD AREA—Boxed are some of the cities hard hit by the worst flood ever to hit the northeast section of the United States. The floods spread death and destruction over a five-state area. Pennsylvania and Connecticut were hardest hit. But heavy damage and deaths were reported in Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York. The official death toll stands at 94 for the area. (NEA Telephoto)

Still an Expert at 81--

Blind Sedalia Woman Takes Title of 'Cook of Yesterday'

Mrs. Ophelia Bowers, 407 East 13th, is the "Cook of Yesterday" for 1955 in the contest open only to women over 70 years of age. Her entries that won her the title were apple butter, cornbread, gingerbread, mother's bread, old-fashioned sugar cookies and sauerkraut.

Mrs. Bowers is 81 years old and is blind. It was nineteen years ago that she had an unsuccessful operation for cataracts and since that time she has learned to live by touch alone. She can't even see light but she knows where everything is and she is careful to wash and wipe every dish and pan before she uses it so she knows it is clean. She can fry and bake, do anything she ever did in the way of cooking, and she has done a lot of cooking in her day because she had 11 children. Nine of them are still living but only two sons live in Sedalia. They are Pearly and Enloe.

Last year Mrs. Bowers planned to enter the "Cooks of Yesterday" contest but she missed the day somehow. Not being able to see a calendar she was a day late in her getting ready. Then she couldn't read the recipes. She did get some entries in and won some blue ribbons but not in that contest. This year she started early and began getting things ready at 8 o'clock Thursday morning finishing up about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. She doesn't need recipes for her cakes and some of the other things, she knows them by heart, but certain things she was to enter she had to have some body read the recipes to her. Her neighbors are good to her, she said.

This is the fourth year she has entered in the cooking contests and she has won a lot of blue ribbons. One of these days she is going to make them into a pillow.

Mrs. Bowers also has things entered in the blind display, leather articles such as pocket books and belts and she has clothespin bags, too. She planned to make some aprons but she mashed her finger and the nail came off so she didn't get the aprons finished. She has been having things in that display about ten years, she said, and explained that the Blind Commission has the booth where they sell the articles if they can for the blind people.

Besides cooking, sewing and leather work Mrs. Bowers amuses herself with her radio and record player. She hears a new record that she likes on the radio then she sends down and buys it. "I play it over and over and over," she said.

Mrs. Bowers is from Stover, that was where she raised all her children, she said, but for the past 22 years she has lived in Sedalia. For eight years she has lived at her present address but the house was recently sold and she is going to have to move. She dreads that because she is going to have to learn a new house and where things are, too, she doesn't know where she is going to find a house.

Bridge Carries Big Numbers of Autos

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—The new Missouri River bridge at Jefferson City carried 23,671 motor vehicles during the first 24 hours after it was opened Saturday night.

The peak hour was 7 to 8 p.m. Sunday, when 1,683 vehicles were recorded by the automatic traffic counters.

Last year the old bridge, now being torn down, carried an average of 8,507 each 24 hours. Last month the average was 9,655 vehicles.

Hennings Is Delegate To Finland Meeting

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., (D-Mo.) is one of five senators named to attend the 44th annual meeting of the Inter-Parliamentary Union at Helsinki, Finland, Aug. 25-31.

High School Bands Arrive for The Fair

Five Missouri high school bands arrived on the grounds early today to spend the day visiting the fair, parading and playing at various times. The bands come from the high schools at Brookfield, Meadville, Bevier, Montrose and Fayette.

Each band toured the grounds early today playing at various exhibits and at the noon hour they joined together for a big parade over the main streets of the grounds.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the bands will mass together for an hour's concert in front of the Administration Building.

French Blast Back at Rebels African Bands

Sporadic Rioting Is Still Going On All Over Morocco

CASABLANCA, Morocco (P)—French troops and Foreign Legionnaires using tanks and fighter planes blasted back at rebel bands today after a bloody weekend of raids, riots and guerrilla fighting left an estimated 1,000 dead in North Africa.

Sporadic rioting was reported all over Morocco, although apparently most of the incidents were small outbreaks of Nationalist violence.

Dependable casualty figures are lacking. One Paris newspaper put the death toll at 1,341. Semiofficial figures, admittedly conservative, gave a total near 800. Experienced reporters in North Africa said a toll near 1,000 was more likely.

Probably the exact number killed never will be known because of the rebels carried away many of their dead.

While both Morocco and Algeria still seethed, French Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, heading a Cabinet "committee of five," opened a week of talks with Moroccan leaders at the French resort of Aix les Bains. Their aim is a scheme of greater self-government for the turbulent protectorate.

French tanks launched a major operation this morning against the rebel tribesmen who massacred about 80 French at Oued Zem, a mining center in the Tadla region south of Casablanca.

A cautious official report said: "Operations have started. The Legion is searching houses in Oued Zem and the surrounding country. The Moroccans fortified themselves in some houses. Tanks have gone into action and these tanks have cannon on them. Planes are standing by."

Many fires were set in buildings around Marrakesh. In previously quiet Algerian cities along the Mediterranean coast streets were deserted except for police cars and trucks loaded with troops.

The official count of casualties was still incomplete because of interrupted communications in some sections.

Illinois Fair Shows Attendance Decrease

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Attendance at the 1955 Illinois state fair, which closed its 10-day run Sunday, was the lowest since 1951.

Fair officials said 30,000 turned out for the final day's program, giving an estimated total attendance of 930,000. This was 75,000 below a year ago and the lowest since the 827,000 total in 1951.

Grand Champion Ham Gets Record-Breaking $840 Bid

Fair Crowd Falls Short Of Old Record

95,450 Attendance Counted; Show Drop Of 2,883 for 1955

It was Mayor's Day, Springfield Day, Radio and TV Day at the Missouri State Fair Monday, but the big attraction was the visit of former President Harry S. Truman, who came to see the Fair for the first time in 20 years.

Truman arrived early for the Ham Breakfast, after which he retired to the fair grounds and started a tour of the agriculture exhibits. He went to the mule barn where a photographer caught the former President admiring one of Missouri's prize mules.

The early morning report from the admissions department was favorable for a record breaking Monday. According to L. C. Carpenter, commissioner of agriculture, and W. H. "Chubby" Ritzenthaler, fair secretary, the morning report shows an increase of approximately seven per cent over the same time Monday in 1954.

In 1954 on Monday the attendance was 29,629.

At the noon hour Truman and a group of friends were entertained at luncheon at the secretary's home, Fair Acres, by Commissioner Carpenter. In the afternoon the party returned to the fair grounds and went to the grandstand to witness the opening of the Grand Circuit harness races.

Sunday which was Veterans' Armed Forces Day and Business and Professional Women's Day at the fair failed to reach the record breaking 1954 Sunday when 98,333 persons attended the annual exposition. The attendance Sunday fell short by 2,883 of the record mark, it being 95,450.

The Sunday total and that of Saturday, 44,079, brings the 1955 attendance up to 139,529, or 2,288 more in attendance than 1954 for the opening days.

An overcast didn't hamper the fair activities and the auto racing program was speeded up some in an endeavor to get the entire program in. However, a brief but hard shower put a damper on completion of the semi-final event, and held up the final event for nearly an hour and a half while efforts were made to dry out the track.

Just at 1:55 p.m. L. C. Carpenter, commissioner of agriculture stepped to the microphone in the judges' stand across from the packed grandstand and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, may we pause for just five minutes in memory of the late Ross C. Ewing, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, who died early this month. I introduce to you Rev. Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church here in Sedalia."

Rev. Hurd stepped to the microphone and gave a brief eulogy for Ewing, speaking of his success and his connections with the fair. He then asked the crowd to bow their heads in a minute's silence and gave a prayer.

At the close taps were sounded by Pfc. J. H. Ylvisaker, a member of the Sixth Armored Division band, Ft. Leonard Wood.

Activity throughout the fair grounds were brought to a standstill and silence during their few minutes paying respects to Ewing, who would have been overseeing his second Missouri State Fair had he lived.

Sunday morning there were no religious services scheduled at the fair grounds, but between the hours of nine and ten in the morning the fair grounds loudspeaker system carried religious music throughout the grounds. Hymns were used on the system from all religious faiths.

The Sunday morning religious music program was sponsored by the Sedalia Lions Club with President John B. Ellison and Harold Seaberg, past-president, in charge of the music.

Arrest 91-Year-Old Man on Murder Charge

SUNLAND, Calif. (P)—A 91-year-old man was in jail today on suspicion of murder after his 88-year-old sanitarium roommate was found beaten to death.

Nurse Ethel Allen found the body of Gustaf Elm yesterday. Police said Elm's head had been battered, apparently with a small kitchen stool.

Police arrested A. K. Baldwin, who said Elm had been bothering his wife. But police said Baldwin, wife died several years ago, before he knew Elm.

MISSOURI HAM FOR BREAKFAST—The ham which was served along with several others to the crowd at the annual Ham Breakfast is inspected by Col. Robert E. Lee Hill, Columbia, who served as toastmaster at the affair, where former president Harry S. Truman was the main speaker. L. C. Carpenter, state commissioner of agriculture, also gives the ham the once over.

A Family Affair--

Son Wins Ham Championship Over Members of Own Family

The battling for the grand championship of the Missouri State Fair country-cured hams turned into a family affair, with son beating father out of the honors, as well as a sister and three other relatives. The son, Morris Burger, California, a 20-year-old agriculture engineering student at the University of Missouri, had the prize winning ham.

E. M. Burger, the father, who in 1953 won the Reserve Championship, apparently paid too much attention to schooling of the children in their efforts and lost sight of the fact he might lose out in the coming battle at the state fair. He took sixth and seventh in the heavy and light hams and fifth in the cured bacon.

Morris won the grand championship with a ham weighing 21 pounds. It was auctioned off at the annual Old Missouri Ham breakfast held at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria Monday morning.

Beginning as a small boy, Morris watched and was tutored by his father in the business of curing country hams, on the Burger farm, three miles south of California.

The entry not only won the grand championship but won for Morris the Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. challenge trophy, a medal, $125 in cash premiums and an additional $50 offered by the Duroc Association for championship hams cured from a Duroc hog.

His sister, Mrs. Mary Keil, California, took first place in the light division for hams under 17 pounds. Mrs. Lena M. Bieri, California, sister of Morris' father, won the reserve championship and $100, winning second in light hams, and her husband T. Edwin Bieri, took third in the heavy hams and fourth in the light division.

Mrs. Keil took fourth in the heavy hams and her husband Robert E. Keil was ninth and 11th in the light division.

Margaret Bueker, California, another relative, took fifth in heavy hams and third in light hams.

Out of 21 awards to be given in the ham competition the Burger family took two-thirds of them, 14 awards in all.

Awards follow:
Heavy hams over 17 pounds: 1. Morris Burger, California; 2. Lena M. Bieri, California; 3. T. Edwin Bieri, California; 4. Mary K. Keil, California; 5. Margaret Bueker, California; 6. E. M. Burger, California; 7. Earl E. Jaeger, Route 3, Boonville; 8. W. H. Gard. (Please turn to page 2 column 4)

KANSAS CITY (P)—Showers and cool Canadian air brought Missouri a respite today from recent warm weather.

It was expected to remain cool over most of the state this afternoon and tomorrow. Scattered thundershowers were forecast for the southern portion today.

Tomorrow's maximum temperatures were expected to stay down in the 80s or around 80.

Third of Family Dies Of Accident Injuries

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (P)—Jack Miller, 27, Kansas City, died in a hospital here last night of injuries received in a traffic accident that killed his wife and their 10-month-old son.

A tractor-trailer unit overturned and crushed the Miller car on U. S. 60 about 10 miles east of Springfield Saturday.

34,169 Families Out Of Homes In Flood

WASHINGTON (P)—The Red Cross said today an incomplete survey shows 34,169 families were routed from their homes by flood waters in six Eastern states.

The survey showed 439 homes entirely destroyed and nearly 14,000 damaged.

Harry Truman Is Speaker At Breakfast

Says That Missouri Country Hams Excel Any He Has Seen

Former President Harry S. Truman came back to Sedalia Monday and saw an international record broken in the sale of a prize ham at $40 per pound, or $840 for the 21-pound grand champion Duroc Missouri State Fair ham of Morris Burger, 20-year old Missouri University agriculture student from California, Mo.

The ham was bought by W. A. Smith of the W. A. Smith Ford Motor Co., here in Sedalia, after a spirited bidding session during the annual Old Missouri Ham Breakfast held in connection with the Missouri State Fair.

Robert E. Lee "Bob" Hill, Columbia, toastmaster at the breakfast, and an authority on ham sales stated the price was the largest ever paid by the pounds for a prize ham.

"I've attended many ham breakfasts, but this was the largest and most spirited one I ever attended. Never before have I seen such a price paid for a ham," Hill remarked.

The second and third place hams which were also sold by Ed Caldwell, Perry, Mo., auctioneer, assisted by Olen Downs and Jesse Paul, local auctioneers, brought good prices. The second place, Reserve Champion ham of Mrs. Lena Bieri, California, an aunt of Morris Burger, brought $5 per pound and brought $96.85. The third place ham of T. Edwin Bieri, husband of Mrs. Bieri went to $9.50 per pound for $137.

The second place ham was bought by W. L. Reinhart for Reinhart-Weich and Sales Co., of Sedalia, while the third place ham went to Wallace Farley of Farley, Mo.

In the spirited bidding for the grandchampion ham, after it passed the $20-a-pound mark, was between Smith, Harold Johnson of Columbia, and Mike Bono, St. Louis.

The grandchampion ham of Mitchell J. Tiesing, High Point, Mo., in 1954 was sold for $11.25 per pound or a total of $191.25 to Claude Boul, the then president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. The total for the three hams was $1,063.85.

More than 600 Missourians from all corners of the State crowded into the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria to enjoy the hams which (Please turn to page 2, Column 7)

Drags Woman by Hair Following Bad Crash

ST. CHARLES (P)—Charles J. McMullin of St. Louis, pilot of a single-engine plane which crashed last night in the Missouri River, told today of how he rescued a woman companion by dragging her by the hair from the plane's cabin.

McMullin said he and Miss Barbara Edwards of St. Louis held on to the plane a few minutes while it floated, then swam for shore a few moments before the plane sank, six miles north of the St. Charles bridge. He said his foot caught in the plane's controls and he had to remove his shoe to escape.

The plane had taken off from nearby Kratz Airport shortly before the crash. McMullin said the plane's tail apparently caught on power lines, as it gained altitude.

Innocent Swim Brings Search For Fisherman

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—It was hot and humid in Hampton night before last. So hot and humid that a Hampton man, who'd been fishing in Mills Creek beside a bridge on the Military Highway, decided to peel off his clothes and take a swim.

After all, it was 2 a.m. and much too late for a car to come along... but one did.

The man, who had just finished disrobing, scrambled over an abutment and hid.

The motorist caught a glimpse of him as he rolled over the side of the abutment and, fearing an accident had happened, stopped to investigate.

When the motorist didn't see anybody in the water, he called police. The police called the fire department. Rescuers hurried to the scene. A large crowd gathered. Helicopters from a nearby Army base were summoned.

Officers found the missing man's clothing piled beside his bicycle by the creek. Papers in his pockets gave them his name. They sadly notified his family of his disappearance.

For nearly two hours the search proceeded.

At 3:45 a.m. a telephone jangled at police headquarters. It was the man's wife. He'd arrived home safely—but unclad.

Police declined to give the man's name.

Fair Hospital Shows Increase In Patients

The State Fair Hospital and First Aid Station, located on the fairgrounds, has had a booming patronage for the first two days of the fair.

With the average number of patients in past years running about 40, Saturday saw an influx of 64 persons, only to be topped by 68 on Sunday.

With doctors from the Pettis County Medical Association providing their free time to give around the clock duty, all patients have been adequately cared for. Most of the cases were reported to be such things as heat prostration, lacerations, nose bleeds, blisters and boils.

groups, one which will assist with the older children and another to help with the younger students.

The volunteer helpers for the younger children met on August 15. They discussed ways and means for guiding this group to develop wider interests and especially speech stimulation. Also a pre-reading readiness program will be set up with occupational therapy and constructive play will be emphasized.

The volunteer helpers for the sessions to be conducted for the younger children will include Mrs. Edward Christian, Mrs. Betty Pye, Mrs. Joretta Smith, Mrs. Marie Mosby, Mrs. Lois Layton, Mrs. John Miller, and Mrs. Fay Duet. Each helper will assist one afternoon each week for a six weeks period excepting Mrs. Duet and Mrs. Pye, who will give their services every afternoon.

The group of helpers who volunteered to work with the older children met on August 17. It was decided there will be elementary education taught from the first grade on up, contingent on the need as it arises. It will be an ungraded classroom. Each child will work with his reading, spelling, handwriting, arithmetic, and other basic subjects according to the student's own level in each subject.

Of special interest will be the science units presented throughout the year, such as the study of insects, trees, birds, animals and flowers.

The helpers for this group are Mrs. Francis Crenshaw of Stover, Mrs. Glenn Cox, Mrs. Herb Studer, Mrs. William Bunn, Mrs. Juanita Mosher, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Garnet Starkey, Mrs. J. R. Durham, and Mrs. Robert Stoner.

Extra special events will be conducted one hour each afternoon from 1:30 until 2:30. This will include Mrs. Bill Padgett showing motion pictures one afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Hopkins and Mrs. James L. Jolly will conduct music once each week. Mrs. Hopkins will teach a class in art one day each week, including clay modeling. Mrs. Harry Lindstrom will conduct a story hour once during the week.

Mrs. Swope states that during the special project hour, there is still a need for instructors during the first six weeks' session in such topics as simple sewing and cooking for the girl and leather and wood handiwork for the boys. She points out that anyone desiring to volunteer to help during a once-a-week session should contact her or any other member of the helper's training committee.

According to Harold W. Barrick, president of the local organization of United Cerebral Palsy, it is relatively certain that the services of a physiotherapist will be secured during the coming school year.

Officials of the Crippled Children's Center advise that there is still a need for helpers for the school after the first six weeks' session, at which time the new helpers will relieve the majority of those assistants who worked at the school during the first six weeks. These volunteers can, likewise, get in touch with either Mrs. Swope or the members of the helper's training committee.

Lightning Hits Home With $1,500 Damages

An estimated damage of $1,500, covered by insurance, resulted about 4 a.m. today when lightning struck the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Walters of Stover.

The house, situated in the eastern part of the city in a new development, was unoccupied. A passing motorist summoned the fire department, averting a possible larger loss. The lightning burned a hole in the roof, and fire came through the ceiling and onto the floor, doing considerable damage.

The Walters had hoped to move into their new house on Wednesday, but the newly painted walls will now have to be redone, delaying their occupancy. Walters is superintendent of Stover schools.

were donated by members of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. Funds raised through the breakfast are to be turned over to Truman for the Truman Memorial Library at Independence.

The former president was the principal speaker at the breakfast and his remarks were praises of Missouri, and of the interest being taken in agriculture by the younger generation of today.

During the wait for the serving of the breakfast, the large cafeteria room began to get hot from a beaming sun outdoors. Women were swishing small handkerchiefs. Men who had hats were using them as fans. And those wearing coats soon had their shirt collars melting down.

Suddenly the former President rose on the platform and began peeling off his coat and remarked, "Let's everybody stand and remove our coats and be comfortable." It was a full second before the men realized what was occurring, but it was only a split-second action in coat removing.

Having heard L. Gov. James T. Blair and U.S. Senator Stuart W. Symington make brief remarks, Truman said in opening his talk, "I want to congratulate these two gentlemen on their handling of the 'terminal facilities' in giving such brief speeches, when I know how we politicians like to take advantage of such a great gathering as we have here this morning."

"As a citizen of this great state, I want to say I am proud of our representation in Washington. We have, I believe, two of the greatest young senators this state has ever had and there is absolute harmony between these two young men. I am glad we have young men like Senators Hennings and Symington, and we should have more. There are too many old men there now and that's the reason they can't get through."

"We have a wonderful Congressional delegation and they are all personal friends of mine."

Continuing, Truman stated, "I have had hams from every state, or nearly every state that boasts of their prize winning hams, but none as good or anywhere near as good as our good old Missouri Hams."

"It is a pleasure to see this young man with the grand champion ham. The younger generation in the art of curing hams is getting greater and better than the older generation."

Truman's only near remark to politics was in reference to President Eisenhower, when he remarked, "If he had studied as he should have, he would never have joined the Republican Party."

"The last time I had an opportunity to visit the Missouri State fair was about 20 years ago, and that was when my mother was alive. As I recall a pair of Kansas mules won the grand championship. I almost had to bury my mother over that. But I assure you I'll try to visit many more from now on."

In closing he said, "Keep up this ham business, it is great and brings many people together to enjoy and learn of the great product Missouri has in prize hams."

Seated at the head table were: Truman, Senator Symington, Lt. Gov. Blair, Morris Burger, Mrs. T. Edwin Bieri, who had the grand champion and reserve champion hams, L. C. Carpenter, commissioner of agriculture, W. H. "Chubby" Ritzenthaler, secretary of the fair, Judge Frank Monroe, Mayor Julian H. Bagby, Walter Cramer, Kenneth U. Love, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Rev. Hurd and Toastmaster Hill.

Following the short talk by Truman, presentation of the Sen. Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., challenge trophy was made. Truman, on behalf of Sen. Hennings who was unable to be here because of government business, in Europe, presented the trophy to Morris Burger. Carpenter presented Burger with the State Fair Championship medal.

An unusual picture painted by Richard Turner, Green Ridge, which was entered in the amateur section of the Fine Arts was selected as the picture of the day for Saturday, the first day of the Fair. It is an oil still life in which is a volume of Shakespeare, a cedar box, a well used notebook, a sheet of music entitled "Etude Op. 10, P. O. 3, L. Major," a wine glass and a bunch of grapes. Turner, who has entered art exhibits a number of times, seems to have that something about his art that appeals to the people who view the exhibits, because his work is almost always selected for its general appeal.

Sacred Heart Sisters Wear New Style Habit

Students at Sacred Heart grade and high schools will return to classes featuring a "new look" in the habits of the Sisters of the Precious Blood, who teach at the school. Use of the new garb began today. The re-designed habit was adopted last year at the community's General Council, and recently approved by Rome and distributed to the Sisters throughout the country.

The new habit is a striking combination of soft gray with a light-weight black veil down the back. The skirt hangs in several loose folds, and a small sash trimmed in red is visible through the center of an elbow length cape. A white collar and white headpiece beneath the veil are much simpler than the former habit. Retained in the new design is the small silver crucifix worn on a red cord.

These Sisters are among the many religious communities of women that have re-designed their habits in accord with the wishes of Pope Pius XII. In keeping with the ever increasing activities as-

Gives Them Chance For Both Exhibiting And Learning Value Of Their Animals

The 1955 4-H County Livestock Show, which was held at the Missouri State Fair Grounds, gave 4-H members the opportunity to exhibit 180 head of livestock and poultry which were shown by 74 4-H members. This show gives 4-H'ers an opportunity to not only exhibit their livestock but also a chance to have them evaluated.

This junior event was planned jointly by members of the Farm Bureau, livestock, dairy, poultry committees and 4-H leaders. The show was financed by the sale of advertising in the county show catalog. Businessmen in the county are to be complimented for their fine support.

The show was directed by Dick Monsees and Lee Dow, general superintendents; Raymond Kahrs and Forrest Reid, swine superintendents; Joe Bill Reid and E. M. Green, sheep superintendents; E. H. Gregory and Tom Harvey, beef superintendents; Earl Wood and Bill McCune, dairy superintendents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keele and John Knaus, poultry superintendents.

Gives Several Ways Of Good Seeding After Seedbed's Ready

Several methods of seeding are satisfactory after a firm seedbed is prepared. Perhaps the most commonly used is the regular fertilizer grain drill with the alfalfa seed going through the grass seed compartment. Hose extensions for band seeding are desirable. This allows the seed to fall behind the drill disks so it will not be covered too deeply and also places the seed directly over the starter fertilizer applied at the same time. A cultipacker or corrugated roller should be used after the drill. If it is quite dry at seeding time, it is best to cultipack both before and after drilling the seed.

A seeder which places the seed between two cultipacker rollers is excellent. If such a seeder is used, the starter fertilizer should be applied through a fertilizer grain drill or a fertilizer distributor before the seeding is made. The same principle is followed when putting on the seed with either a horn seeder or cyclone seeder in between two workings with a cultipacker. To get better seed distribution, it is well to sow half the seed one way and cross seed the other half when seeding by hand.

Inoculate the seed just before starting the seeding operation. The inoculant can be obtained from most any seed store.

GOOD FARMING

in Pettis County

Need Lime For Alfalfa

We have been talking alfalfa production for the last two years and now I am afraid I have "over sold" it. I don't mean "over-sold" from the angle that it is not good. Rather it is from the angle that it will grow without complete soil preparation. Folks do not seem to hesitate to put on the plant food required but they are not applying the lime early enough.

Every day we have folks up here desiring recommendations for alfalfa fertilization on fields that need one to five tons of lime per acre. Our recommendations have always been that we needed the lime on six months ahead of seeding. Since alfalfa seeding is a comparatively new practice in Pettis county possibly we have not spent enough time on that point.

Can Apply With Drill

I have encouraged several folks to wait until next fall to make their seedings. With others who planned to seed next fall I urged them to get their lime on now or early next spring. For those who insist on seeding now I have recommended a practice that we used on Mayor Julian Bagby's farm a few years ago.

Out there Mr. Bagby wanted to seed sweet clover (similar lime requirements to alfalfa) on a field that had just been limed. I suggested putting some agricultural lime in the fertilizer box of the drill and actually drilling sweet clover seed and lime together. That way there would be some lime very close to the germinating seed. Well, they obtained a beautiful stand of sweet clover except on a few spots where they ran out of lime in the drill before they reached the end of the row.

The point I am trying to make is that I am afraid some folks will fail to get a stand of alfalfa just because they did not lime the field early enough. Of course the natural reaction will be that they cannot grow it on their farm. Some one said a baby chick was 500 times as susceptible to disease as a pullet ready to go into the laying house. That is about true with little alfalfa plants. If the test does not show that the lime is adequate, let's hold up seeding or put some on with the drill. Of course, the seed needs to go down either in the same shallow drill mark or in a band just above the lime.

Attend ASC Election Meetings

The selection of township election committees is an effort to arouse more interest in the A.S.C. program and also to take the pressure off the local committee in holding the election themselves.

That is, in most townships, there are some folks who have the time to do ASC work and like to do it. However, they have been about the only ones that turned out to the elections. In addition, when the rest of the folks did not come to the election they expected the local committee to keep them informed and to come to the farmer about practices rather than the farmer going to his township committee man or to the county office.

Last year one township election even had to be held over because of poor attendance.

It is hoped that the local committees named to hold the various township elections on Friday night, Aug. 26, may have the active support of the farmers of the township. The chairmen of the local election committees are Blackwater — W. T. Summerskill; Houstonia — J. F. Blackburn; Longwood — Paul W. Stephens; Heaths Creek — Carl Raines; Bowling Green — John M. Sneed, Sr.; Prairie — Robert Longan; Smithton — William J. Lamm; Hughesville — C. S. Arnold; Cedar — Sedalia — Marvin Goodwin; Dresden — Bruce W. Richey; LaMonte — C. E. Carroll; Elk Fork — Sidney Morton; Washington — Bernard O. Dove; Green Ridge — Charles S. Walkup; Lake Creek — W. C. Corlew; Flat Creek — Chester Wissman.

Specialists Toss Out Theory That Origin Affects Wheat Types

Extension field crops specialists at the University of Missouri say there's nothing to the idea that seed wheat of hard varieties needs to come from states to the west of Missouri. According to them, place of origin of the seed of wheat varieties is of no importance. Pure seed of any particular adapted wheat variety performs the same regardless of where the seed was produced as long as it has good germination and is free of weed seeds.

Wheat grown in the high plains area to the west does have a higher protein content than wheat grown here in Missouri, but the U. S. Department of Agriculture long ago proved that this was due largely to the climate in which the wheat was grown and not because hard wheat "runs out." For example, the crop specialists say that Pawnee seed wheat brought in from western Kansas loses its hardness and high protein content in the first crop so it has no advantage over seed produced in Missouri.

Much of the seed wheat brought into Missouri from the states immediately to the west comes from the eastern section of those states. So actually, it's grown under a climate very similar to that in Missouri.

Lists Discount For 23 Poor Wheat Types

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced a discount of 20 cents per bushel in 1956 price support rates for 23 wheat varieties designated as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities. This announcement is being made in advance of planting time for 1956-crop winter wheat to give producers ample notice of the new support provisions.

The discount is limited to specific varieties in specific states. The 23 varieties are from the five major classes of wheat produced in the U.S. and 21 states are involved. The 20-cent per bushel discount is designed to discourage planting of these varieties. While these varieties are planted to meet specific production problems such as drought or rust resistance, early maturity, adapted for modern harvesting methods, and others, they proved to be undesirable for commercial food use.

The varieties were designated by the Agricultural Research Service of the Department of Agriculture after consultation with State Agricultural Experiment Station personnel, agronomists, cereal chemists and other qualified technicians on state and federal staffs.

Because these varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples of wheat, the price support regulations for the 1956 program will provide for producer certification regarding undesirable varieties similar to certifications now made by a producer that he produce the wheat and produced it in the current crop year. The identification of the variety of wheat going under price support will be the producer's responsibility based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested.

Even though some of the undesirable varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium, no protein premiums will apply to any of the undesirable varieties. The same action will be taken regarding amber or hard amber durum premiums.

USDA officials state that this change in the wheat price support program for 1956 is designed to encourage production of the more desirable wheat varieties and discourage plantings of wheat with inferior milling or baking qualities. The 23 varieties, as undesirable, accounted for an estimated 31 million bushels of 1954 production (about 3.7 per cent of the 1954 wheat acreage was planted to these varieties). Officials hope that this

Tighten Regulations On Garbage-fed Hogs

The Department of Agriculture has tightened the regulations on swine being fed garbage. After January 1, 1956, hogs fed raw garbage at any time in their life and products derived from them will not be allowed to move interstate unless they undergo special processing. This special processing reduces the value of hogs up to fifty percent in some cases. At present, garbage fed hogs can be shipped interstate providing they have not been fed any raw garbage for thirty days prior to shipment.

step will lessen the possibility of U.S. wheat of inferior quality finding its way into domestic and export channels. Representatives of crop improvement associations have strongly urged this action to help improve the quality of commercial baking type wheats.

Because the proportion of the wheat crop to be discounted is relatively small, the reduction of price support rates for specified varieties will have only a minor effect in raising the level of individual support rates. In determining individual rates from the national average level, the over-all average will be increased to the extent of the discount weighted by the estimated production of these varieties. The following varieties of wheat will be subject to a 20-cent per bushel discount under the 1956 wheat price support program when produced in Missouri: Red Chief, Kankang, Kanqueen and Kawvale.

20-Lap Race To Bobby Grim

Two Track Marks Go Down

12,000 Fans Wait Out Shower During Semi-Feature Event

More than 12,000 racing fans witnessed the breaking of the seven-lap record on the revamped half-mile oval Sunday afternoon when Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Ind., made the trip in 3:11.56 to better the time of Vern Bradley, Davenport, Ia., who set the record of 3:33.95 on May 30, 1951. The three-lap record of 1:19.77 was broken when Willie Wilhaber, Lexington, Ill., crossed the finish line in 1:19.75.

The afternoon of racing was marred for a time when a heavy shower began falling during the semi-feature event which was scheduled for 10 laps and was cut to five because of the extreme slick track caused from the downpour. More than an hour and a half was spent by the fans in the stands waiting for the feature to begin.

During that time the combined Sixth Armored Division and 399th Army bands played and entertained the crowd with numerous band selections.

During the time after the shower a large grader was used to scrape away as much water as possible and then pickup trouble shooting trucks and cars began circling the half mile track "ironing it out" so the race could be held.

In spite of the slick spots on the track, it proved a fast race although no record was broken. Bobby Grim finished the 20-lap Missouri State Fair Sweepstakes in 9:11.08, a little more than 30 seconds over the archive for the distance. He finished a half lap ahead of Pete Folse, Tampa, Fla., who was pushing for second position, in Tom Rando's Offenhausen, of Kansas City.

Grim, driving his black No. 2 Bardahl Offy, jumped into the lead in the feature and won going away from the pushing competition. The third position went to Charlie Lutkie, Wichita, Kansas, in his No. 28 Studebaker, after Herschel Wagner, Hickman Mills, had to pull into the pits because of mechanical difficulties.

The best race of the day was the consolation when Jimmy Wegescheider, St. Louis, recaptured the lead on the last lap after losing

Nebraskans Lead Tourney After 3 Days

WICHITA, Kan. (P)—The lengthy National Semipro Baseball Tournament has only been underway for three days but the North Platte Plainsmen, Nebraska state champions, already look like a good bet to finish near the top.

The Plainsmen moved into the third round last night by walloping Cleo Springs, Okla., 12-1. Led by catcher Nick Adzick and pitcher George Nicholas, the Nebraskans pounded out 16 hits and scored in every inning except the second.

The North Platte club, whose roster is dotted with former pros, beat the Peoria, Ill., Caterpillars 8-1 in its opening game last Friday.

In first round games yesterday Midland, Pa., beat Raymond, N. H., 6-2, and Huntsville, Ala., trounced Ashland, Ky., 12-3. Two teams were knocked out of the double-elimination tournament. The Peoria Caterpillars ousted the Fort Smith, Ark., Smokers, 12-3, and Holden, Mo., eliminated Crystal City, Mo., 5-1.

It Could Happen Again—

Dodgers Are Slipping Badly; ChiSox Close Behind Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Baseball folks were beginning to wonder today whether Brooklyn may be headed for the most spectacular smashup in the long Dodger tradition of blowings.

Actually, it would take a complete collapse by Brooklyn together with an incredible finish by either of the two top contenders—Milwaukee or New York—to accomplish the miracle. But those who still recall the late-season sides of the Dodgers of 1942 and 1951 are convinced nothing is impossible.

Win or lose, the Dodgers certainly haven't looked like pennant winners since the All-Star break, playing eight games under .500 ball since July 9. Beaten for the third straight time by Philadelphia yesterday, 6-4, the Dodgers limped home with a record of 10 losses in their last 14 games. Their 16 1/2 game lead of Aug. 12 over Milwaukee was trimmed to 11 in nine days.

The Braves, continuing their battle against huge odds, won their fifth in a row yesterday, humbling the Chicago Cubs 8-1, and Cincinnati shut out St. Louis 4-0 behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Don Gross.

Rain washed out the scheduled double-header between the Giants and Pirates in Pittsburgh.

Chicago's relentless White Sox climbed within half a game of New York's American League-leading Yankees, sweeping a double-header from Detroit 2-0 and 8-2. Righthander Dick Donovan, just three weeks after undergoing an appendectomy, followed a four-hitter by Connie Johnson with a well-spaced eight-hitter for his 14th victory in 18 decisions.

Chiefs Win 4-3, Can't Lose Lead

Rally In Ninth To Secure Hold On First Place

The Sedalia Chiefs assured themselves of at least a tie for the championship in the second half of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League by rallying in the ninth to defeat the Brookfield Bombers 4-3 there Sunday night. The Chiefs' record is now 11 wins against two losses.

Jefferson City beat Moberly 5-2 Sunday to achieve a 9-3 record, and Columbia tripped Boonville 7-2 for an 8-3 standing. Even if Sedalia loses its final game, either of these teams could tie for first only by winning all of their remaining games. But the Chiefs, by beating Boonville next Thursday, would be uncontested second half champions.

In a game interrupted by high gusts of dust-raising wind, and a little rain in the last two innings, the Chiefs did not get off to an auspicious start.

Sedalia sent only nine batters to the plate in the first three innings, though Arnold walked in the third and was picked off. Brookfield scored one run in the first frame after Best opened the inning with a double, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a fielder's choice on a grounder in the infield.

The Chiefs picked up a run in the fourth as Case opened with a single, stole second, and then stole third. On a bad throw to third by the catcher, he was able to tally the run.

Another marker came in the sixth when Higgins was hit by a pitched ball with one out, stole second and went to third on another bad throw by the catcher, and was singled home by Mines after Burton had popped to the shortstop.

But Brookfield had picked up two more runs in the sixth and eighth frames, and the Chiefs had their backs against the wall going into the ninth.

Fall opened the final inning with a ground rule double into the right field cornfield and stole third. Neal followed with a single to score Fall, but was caught stealing for the first out. Arnold fanned for the second out. Delph then doubled on a pop infield hit that was a real break for the Chiefs. The ball

Sports Roundup—Favor Aussies In the Davis Cup Matches

NEW YORK (P)—It will come as a distinct surprise to this corner if the Australians do not win back the Davis Cup without experiencing a really uneasy moment this weekend at Forest Hills.

The score likely will be 3-2 in the challengers' favor, but that's granting Tony Trabert two singles victories, which is considerable granting. Our only top-flight amateur is very little better than a tossup against Lew Hoad, and the final count might easily spread to 4-1.

The Aussies have a terrific incentive to win so that their next defense at home can be held virtually in conjunction with the '56 Olympic Games at Melbourne. The Australian people are as intensely nationalistic in their sports outlook as we were some 30 years ago, before too much success bred apathy.

Along with everything else that's happened to the world champion Giants in recent months, their No. 1 hero, Willie Mays, is beginning to hear the hoots of the Polo Grounds fans. This, as our teenage daughter would assert, is the living end.

The All-America boy, who a year ago was commanding up to $1,000 per TV guest appearance, is being accused of giving some ground balls only medium effort and—let's face it—showboating. As one head-line put it: "Prima donna or star, Mays must choose."

Most puzzled looking young man we've seen lately had just returned from an extensive interview with Archie Moore and wished earnestly to know whether he could rely on everything the heavyweight challenger had said to him. If not everything, then about what percentage?

He was advised that the rule of thumb among experienced boxing writers who have listened to Archie for many years is to pay close attention only when the pixie of pugilism is discussing jazz music. Archie's dead serious then.

Donovan Wins After Operation

CHICAGO (P)—Dick Donovan, 28-year-old rookie right-hander who came off the operating table to pitch Chicago White Sox to victory, surprised a lot of people yesterday but not Manager Marty Marion.

Donovan came through with an 8-2 victory over Detroit after Connie Johnson had blanked the Tigers 2-0. The White Sox pulled within half a game of the league-leading New York Yankees.

"He's quite a pitcher," said Marion after the game. "But you know something, I expected it." Marion might have expected it but others didn't. After all, Donovan underwent an emergency appendectomy July 31 and doctors said they didn't expect he'd be able to pitch under game conditions for six weeks.

He gave up only one earned run in posting his 14th victory against four losses and showed no signs of having been sidelined for three weeks.

"I feel wonderful," he said. "No aches, no pains, no anything. It felt as if I were taking my regular turn. You know, like I hadn't been out at all. Sure I tired, but no different than other games."

"This makes us look pretty good," said Marion. "How would you like to lose your top pitcher for three weeks and then have him come back in perfect shape for the stretch drive? They didn't think we'd be up there now last spring. But we're really going to show them something."

"Sure, I expected a good game out of Donovan. He's sincere and takes his baseball seriously. He's a hard worker and he was out there running every day to get himself back in shape. He only pitched three batting practices last week but I knew he was ready because he got those legs in shape. Donovan's return skyrocketed Chicago's pennant chances. Marion was worried about his pitching staff with the Sox having to play nine games in the next six days."

Oregon is one of the few states permitting slogans on its ballots.

Another Lefty Blanks Cards; Athletics Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
That 'ol devil—lefthanded pitching—still is the bane of the St. Louis Cardinals.

National League clubs can see no reason for stopping their policy of dusting off aging lefties, or pointing eager rookie lefthanders for the Redbirds.

The Cincinnati Redlegs came up with rookie Don Gross yesterday. He was just what they needed for a four-hit, 4-0 shutout over the Cardinals and a sweep of the series at Cincinnati. It was the second victory of the season for Gross up from the minors only a month.

Harvey Haddix, striving to even his season record at 11-11 and to halt a Redbird losing streak now five games long, stopped the power hitting Cincinnati club until the sixth, when Wally Post's two-run homer, his 31st, broke the spell. The last two runs came off Luis Arroyo.

It was home run No. 149 off Cardinal pitching this season. The seventh-place Cards still lead the season's series, 11-10, against Cincinnati. They've beaten lefthanders this season only 21 times in 55 tries.

Art Ditmar, Kansas City Athletics pitcher, allowed the Cleveland Indians seven hits but doled out 10 bases on balls as the A's lost 9-4, the third straight to Cleveland at the Indians' home park.

Bob Lemon, making another try for his 14th victory, yielded four runs in the second to the ambitious A's and was lifted in the third. But the Indians came back steadily, as Larry Doby and Gene Woodling homered. Jose Santiago picked up his second victory in relief.

Pro Preview—Grid Leaders Worry Over Up-comers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Now that the National Football League teams are getting down to the serious business of preparing for the official opening just about a month away, it's beginning to look like the top teams of '54 are still tough and the weaker teams are starting to improve.

Last year, the mighty Cleveland Browns, who have been in the playoffs the past four seasons, were worried about the New York Giants—and with good cause. The Giants threatened their eastern division leadership until the waning weeks of the season.

Today, Brownie Coach Paul Brown must be still breathing hard. Cleveland, losing to the College All-Stars Aug. 12, came back to nip the Green Bay Packers 13-7 Saturday night at Akron, Ohio, while the Giants punched out a 28-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers at Seattle.

Last year's lovely Baltimore Colts went on a rampage, touncing the Ft. Belvoir, Va., Engineers 61-0 at Westminster, Md. and last year's western division cellar-dwellers, the Chicago Cardinals, downed their cross-town rivals, the Chicago Bears, 21-6, in Jacksonville, Fla.

Fred Morrison tallied the Brownie touchdown while "Old Reliable" Lou Groza kicked two field goals which proved to be the decisive factor. The Packers scored first in the opening quarter on Tobin Rote's quarterback sneak.

The passing of quarterback Don Heinrich and the running of chunky Bobby Epps carried the Giants to scores in every quarter while the 49ers were blanked through the second half.

Accidents

A one-car accident about 2:40 a.m. Sunday sent two persons to hospitals and the car, a 1951 Buick sedan, was demolished. The accident occurred on Highway 50, west of the LaMonte Junction and in front of the Joe Thompson farm residence.

The car, driven by Calvin Q. Allen, 1211 East Fourth, was headed west on the highway and left the road traveling along the shoulder for approximately 200 feet, struck a concrete culvert, flipped end over end several times for nearly 100 more feet before stopping.

In the car with Allen was A-3c Edward J. Dean of the 340th Air Police Squadron, Sedalia Air Force Base. Dean was badly shaken up and was taken to the Base Hospital in an ambulance, where he was treated for shock, a minor abrasion on his right leg and multiple bruises. He was admitted to the hospital for observation.

Allen was brought to Sedalia to Bothwell Hospital where he was treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards for shock and bruises. He was admitted to the hospital for further observation. Allen complained of a chest injury. He was released from the hospital Monday.

Four women were injured in a three-car accident at 8:15 Sunday morning at the intersection of Broadway and Engineer. Mrs. Agnes Marriott, Barnett, Mo., the driver of a 1954 Ford, received injuries to her right knee and lower lip. Three other passengers in the Ford also were injured. Mrs. Boone Cochran, Barnett, was taken to Bothwell Hospital for injuries to her teeth and mouth. Mrs. Bessie Scott received lip and knee injuries and was also taken to Bothwell Hospital. The fourth passenger, Mrs. Henry Jackson, was taken to the hospital following injuries to her chin and hip.

The first car in the accident was driven by Oliver Bueker of Tipton. He was driving a 1951 Pontiac and his car and a 1955 Chrysler collided when stopping for a light. The Chrysler was driven by Louis Pava, who lives in the state of Georgia and is working at the fairgrounds. His car received damage to the back end when it was struck by a Ford driven by Mrs. Marriott.

Fort Soldiers At Fair For Third Year

Here for the third year in a row as one of the largest and most extensive displays at the Missouri State Fair is a special unit from Ft. Leonard Wood. The unit is displaying exhibits of all the supporting units of the Sixth Armored Division.

The exhibit was officially opened Saturday morning by a visit from Maj. Gen. Frank O. Bowman, commanding general of Ft. Leonard Wood.

One of the tents in the exhibit contains a number of light weapons for supporting ground units and which the tank men use themselves in combat. The weapons include a 3.5 rocket launcher, mortars, and various models of machine guns.

Another tent erected and manned by the Combat Command "A" shows models of various engineering projects including a number of bridges.

Another tent contains signal equipment with radios, teletype machines and accessories used with all radio sets. This tent also houses a recruiting booth which is operated by S-Sgt. Billy Potter, local recruiting sergeant and a native Sedalian.

One of the largest portions of the exhibit is the field hospital. This complete modern hospital is located in several different tents. It includes an examination room, which is used in operation for a minor treatment room, another tent is the site of a pre-operative and shock station, including shock beds and transfusion equipment.

From this tent the hospital leads to the surgery room, which is divided into an orthopedic surgery room and an abdominal and thoracic surgery room. Another tent houses a pharmacy and a dental clinic and still another serves as a laboratory and sterilization room, with an x-ray room. Finally, for the medical center, there are ward rooms, which have beds made up ready for occupants and some which are displayed as occupied.

The medical center is run by the 12th Field Hospital Unit, which has the distinction of completing a 12 week cycle in five weeks and receiving an excellent in following Army Training Test.

One of the most popular spots in the exhibit is the mess detachment, which has been set up with as much luxury as field conditions will permit and here is an example of a menu for one meal: tomato juice, tenderloin, southern fried chicken, brown gravy, snowflake potatoes, buttered creamed corn, sliced tomatoes, relish tray, gold cake, ice cream, hot rolls, butter and coffee.

The meals are prepared under the direction of Mess Officer, CWO Arthur L. Middlebrook and Mess Sgt. Frank C. Mishka, Noesho, Mo. Finally there are exhibits of armored cars, amphibious trucks, engineer equipment, mine detectors, water purification units and a medical aid station.

The medical aid station is as a sick call headquarters for the personnel conducting the displays and for civilians, who need aid in that vicinity. It is run by Maj. Dorothy M. Donohue, an Army Nurse.

Since opening they have already handled several cases of heat prostration and are available in case of emergency.

Say Freed Americans Are Deserters of US

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army said today that Cpl. Murray Fields, of New York City, one of three Americans to be released soon by Russia, has been absent without leave since 1948 from an armored regiment at Nuernberg, Germany.

A spokesman said Fields, now 36, was attached to headquarters service troops of the 2nd Constabulary Regiment at Nuernberg at the time of his disappearance in early June 1948.

The State Department announced in Washington Saturday that the Soviet Union has agreed to release Fields along with Wilfred C. Cumish, Amesbury, Mass., an Army private missing from his unit in Vienna since 1948, and Frederick Charles Hopkins, an American not otherwise identified. The Army said Fields, also known as Murray Feingersch, and Cumish are carried on its records as deserters and will be subject to arrest and trial upon their return to American custody.

U.S. Farm Delegation Heads for the Sattes

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. farm delegation to the Soviet Union headed homeward today advocating more such exchanges of visits between Americans and Russians. "They have the most to gain by exchanges now, but later we might gain considerably," said the leader of the group, Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska Agricultural School.

The party of farmers, educators and newsmen arrived in Berlin by plane yesterday after a month's tour of Soviet farmlands in Russia, the Ukraine and Siberia. They split up here, some remaining in Berlin for a few days, some flying home directly and others stopping in other West European cities.

Mid States Receiving Cool Weather Breaks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A general cooling of the nation's midsection took place early today as cooler air pushing southward across the north and central plains and the western Great Lakes region lowered temperatures from 5 to 13 degrees from yesterday's readings.

In North Dakota and northern Minnesota readings were in the 50s, while the 60s or low 70s were general elsewhere in this air mass. Showers and thundershowers were common along and ahead of the cooler air from southern Kansas northeastward across Missouri, northern Indiana and Illinois.

That is clear from reports and discussions at the atoms-for-peace conference which closed here this weekend after revealing much new information on the private life of the atom, and its uses and potentialities for industry, medicine and agriculture.

DELROSE, Tenn. (AP)—Some 100 crewmen from two Louisville & Nashville work trains were on the job through the night to clear scattered wreckage after 40 freight cars piled up here yesterday. An abandoned station building was demolished as the 110-car north-bound LN freight broke up. No injuries were reported. Cause of the wreck was undetermined.

The United States put a time schedule of "15 to 20 years" for the realization of atomic power generally competitive with orthodox fuels in that country, rich in conventional fuels and having relatively few transportation problems.

Canada said atomic power might be cheap enough for some of her needs in a decade. Britain boldly said that by 1975 she expected 40 per cent of her electric power to be furnished by nuclear energy.

And Russia said she would have "several hundred thousand kilowatts" of installed nuclear power in operation by 1960, in addition to a 100,000-kilowatt plant to be completed within a year.

The need for atomic power obviously is greater in Russia, which has vast areas lacking in power fuels, and in Britain, which already is importing coal. The need for atomic substitutes for coal and water power is much less in the United States.

The United States reported its "package" reactor—a small, portable 2,000-kilowatt job—right now would produce power at less than double the cost of that from coal-burning plants of the same size.

The American report drew a bouquet from Homi Bhabha of India, the president of the conference, who said, "It appears that there are many parts of the world where power would be acceptable at this price and small package power plants of this type may have widespread use, especially in underdeveloped areas."

In his farewell address to the historic meeting, Bhabha said: "One may expect that as a direct result of the information which has been available in this conference, many countries will review their future power programs, and this conference may therefore well lead to a very considerable acceleration of the rate at which atomic energy is put to use for power generation in different parts of the world during the next two decades."

The United States clearly came out with more information on its reactor program than Russia did, giving virtual blueprints not only of government-sponsored projects but details on several projects American industry is undertaking.

But Russia did give the lowdown on its small-sized commercial reactor—"The world's first."

One American delegate, who declined to be quoted by name, said that while "we are well ahead of the Russians from the point of view of having a greater variety of reactors . . . let's give the Russians their due: they got the first peacetime power unit to go into operation."

The United States has a reactor that is feeding some commercial power, but it is by-product power from an experimental submarine reactor.

Another American scientist said he felt the United States is far ahead of Russia in biological research. He took a dim view of a Russian report that there is evidence that the nervous system may be particularly sensitive to atomic radiation. This report attracted wide attention at the conference.

Kids Enjoy Antique Cars At the Fair

Youngsters are delighted by the antique car exhibit at the state fair here while older folks discuss the cars they drove 30 to 40 years ago.

The free exhibit, held the first time this year, drew over 10,000 people for the first two days of the fair.

"The show's been a tremendous success," Superintendent Riley Pankey, Brookfield said, "and we hope to draw over 50,000 visitors before the close of the nine-day fair."

A 1920 Milburn coupe is one of the outstanding cars in the show. Its novel seating arrangement, with two passengers before the driver's seat, interests the younger generation. J. E. Newman, Chillicothe, owner, values the car at $3,500.

Another interesting vehicle is the 1905 Sears owned by Pankey. The two-cylinder engine of the chain-driven touring car moves at a top speed of 15 miles an hour. Other exhibit standouts are a 1913 Ford touring car, owned by Pankey; a 1903 Gleason touring car, belonging to G. M. Priget, Lee's Summit, Mo.; the 1929 Cadillac of F. O. Maxwell, 501 West Tenth Street, Kansas City, and a 1915 Ford touring car owned by L. E. Parish, Wapello, Ia.

A deodorizing wick rubbed over the fingers or hands where garlic or onion has touched will remove the unpleasant odor.

Dedicate New Hospital

LIBERTY (P)—A new $200,000 hospital at the Old Fellows home here was dedicated yesterday before an audience of more than 2,000 persons.

The dedication address for the 50 bed hospital expected to be ready for use in about three weeks, was made by Miss Mary Jane Truman, Grandview, sister of former President Harry Truman.

Idaho's first commercial saw-mill was built at Lewiston in 1869.

To Discuss Relations

TOKYO (P)—Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu said today he would discuss Japan's relations with the Communist world, trade problems and the release of war criminals on his visit to Washington.

The 68-year-old veteran diplomat parried virtually all other questions on the high-policy talks to begin shortly after he arrives in the U.S. capital Thursday.

Ike's Pig Calling Arouses Talks Over His Candidacy

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ever hear a president of the United States call a pig?

Dwight D. Eisenhower does it this way:

"Sooooey," he calls in a half-crown, half-chuckle. "Sooooey! Ho, Pig! Pig! Pig!"

And up to him comes — or does not come, as suits its mood — one of the various porkers growing fat and marketable on the Eisenhower place up Gettysburg way.

Some of us had the rare experience of seeing Ike turn hog-caller the other day, shortly before he left for Denver, and the general verdict was that he has the true, down-to-mud approach. Maybe he will never win any hog-calling contests, but he usually gets his pig.

Then, of course, the conversation turned to whether he will run again in '56, and nobody agreed with anybody about anything.

He certainly did look at home and happy there by the pig-pen. It would have chilled the Republic.

Cosmic Ray Test Brings Belief Of Some Safety

HOLLOMAN AIR DEVELOPMENT CENTER (AP)—Cosmic rays may make your hair turn white, but they're not the outer space threat it was first feared, space medicine experts said today.

They said, "A traveler in the stratosphere should be able to perform duties in a normal manner with no serious after effects."

The announcement followed tests in Michigan in which live monkeys and rats were sent soaring for long periods in big plastic balloons 15 to 20 miles above the surface of the earth.

The balloons and techniques for testing the effects of cosmic rays — heavy particles of elements from the sun — were developed here and reported on by Maj. Davis G. Simons, chief of the space biology branch of the Aero Medical Field Laboratory here.

Live animals were placed aboard the balloons and sent to heights of from 90,000 to 120,000 feet above Sault Sainte Marie, Mich. Some of the animals were exposed to cosmic radiation at that height for as long as 35 hours.

Monkeys used in the test were observed closely before and after their ordeal. They "behaved perfectly normal after two flights."

"After watching the exposed animals for six months following the experiments, scientists tentatively concluded that cosmic particles may have been overestimated as hazards to the nerve system, and that a traveler in the stratosphere should be able to perform duties in a normal manner with no serious after effects," the report said.

The only noticeable effect was that black-haired rats sometimes started growing white hairs after prolonged exposure to cosmic rays because of damage of the piercing ray particles to hair follicle pigment cells.

Refuse Church Service

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard Carpenter, 26, who confessed killing one policeman and wounding another, was denied permission to attend Roman Catholic services in county jail yesterday, but Chaplain Cronan Murphy visited him.

Father Murphy was Carpenter's only visitor. The man accused of slaying Detective William J. Murphy and the shooting and wounding of policeman Clarence Kerr Wednesday remained under special guard in the maximum security wing of the jail.

Kerr was reported continuing to improve in St. Mary's Hospital.

Vote On Bond Issue

BUCKNER (AP)—Two bond issues totaling $260,000 go to the voters here tomorrow.

One, for $150,000 in revenue bonds, is for a new sewer system. The other is for $110,000 in general obligation bonds for waterworks. A majority of two-thirds is needed for approval.

can party to the marrow to see the affectionate way he slapped a skittish gift heifer on the rump. That was the gesture of a man who'd rather be a farmer than president any day.

But then people remembered Eisenhower at Geneva, talking turkey to the Russians. Sure, he'd rather retire to the farm — but what if he felt he had a better chance than anyone else of staving off World War III? Would any private preference keep him from doing it?

One of the correspondents, whose name had better be omitted, came up with a thought:

Suppose Eisenhower refuses to run again — because of the farm, because of his age (which he himself has brought into the debate), because of his health or his wife's because of any combination of circumstances known or unknown to the public.

Then why not make him chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, where his personal prestige and the carry-over power of his office would make him the most formidable spokesman this country could possibly have?

Certain objections were raised to this suggestion. Among them: "What are you, a Democrat? Ike's going to run again — don't kid yourself." And: "Suppose a Democrat won the next election. Can you see him giving a top job to a Republican — even to Eisenhower?"

The conversation got nowhere. Except there was agreement that it's a mighty nice farm.

It's just short of 500 acres and the land around it is owned by an old friend and golfing companion of the president's, Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins — just in case some enterprising soul should get the idea of building a motel opposite the front gate.

The house, which has been completely rebuilt, is painted white and so is the barn. There's a Pennsylvania Dutch, or maybe a New England, tidiness about the place. And a good deal of simplicity. Out in front, for example, there's nothing but a stone bench and a sun dial.

Somebody asked how Eisenhower, who got by most of his life on not-too-high Army pay, can afford such lodgings. The house, land and buildings are worth well over $200,000 by the most conservative estimates of neighboring realtors.

Well, Eisenhower's book, "Cru-300,000 copies and earned him upward of $600,000. Even after the capital gains tax and other deductions, that left a nest-egg. Then, too, the President, long accustomed to an Army salary, is reliably reported to be saving a part of his $100,000 a year salary.

In spite of this, in spite of the many gifts presented to him for the farm, Eisenhower complains with evident feeling about the high cost of country living these days. What farmer doesn't?
